

COME FORWARD, RUMPERS

The Way is Now Open for You to Speedily Break the Unfortunate Deadlock.

Blake Swears in the Eight Democratic Senators Who Take Their Seats.

Miles Finlan's Name Not on the Programme, But He Gets There Just the Same.

The democratic senators by their action yesterday removed the semblance of an excuse that they have in any way been responsible for the maintenance of the existing deadlock. Republican ingenuity cannot succeed in evading the fact that the responsibility for the situation is, as it always has been, with the rump house. When the republican representatives-elect go into the house and take the oath the legislature will be organized and business will go on. The blockade will be removed and necessary legislation will be proceeded with. To bring about this result the democrats have done everything within their power. Their senators have gone in the senate chamber and taken the oath and their representatives by their actions in notifying the rump to appear in the house and qualify have shown their determination to bring about a solution of the deadlock by right means at the earliest possible time.

The twenty-five men who have met in various places for the past few weeks and transacted a certain amount of useful business must stand before the people without the slightest form of defense for holding out for the deadlock in defense of all law and custom. It is not good enough to make a change in the situation which will be reached before the end of the week, with a possible breaking of the deadlock. The hurried of the republicans that the action of the democratic senators was a concession that the party was to give way from its position has completely subsided. The resolutions were adopted and the sergeant-at-arms was instructed to serve a copy of them to the members of the rump house, with the exception of Mr. Finlan, who did not receive his copy until after the adjournment. Mr. Finlan did not have far to go to find the majority of his men. They were scattered about the corridors and in the senate chamber of the court house watching the proceedings or discussing the situation when Mr. Finlan came along with a pocket full of papers. Every rump received his copy. Some of the rumpers unfolded the papers and read the contents. To a disinterested observer the first emotion to be seen on the countenances of the misguided was that of dismay, evidenced by a falling of the lower jaw and a wide glance of the eye in search of the war horse.

The resolutions were received by the rumpers with no comments. They evidently regarded it as a serious matter. Mr. Finlan did not follow the method of Mr. Quirk and bore his men with a reading of the copy. They were simply served with the document.

Short Session of the Republicans in the Granite Block.

The rump had a large audience last night, the lobby being filled with people. County Attorney Nolin, Auditor Kinney, E. D. Weed, United States Attorney for Montana, and Lieutenant Governor Rickards had seats close to the rail. The audience seemed to expect something startling, but the proceedings were dull. The order of business was not half gone through when a motion was put and carried to adjourn until this morning at 10.

Cory, of the committee on state affairs, reported a bill concerning seals of courts and recommended that the bill go to the printing committee. He also afterward gave notice of a bill to amend the election law adopted by the territorial legislature last winter.

After the adjournment Lieutenant Governor Rickards mounted a chair in the lobby and called on the rump and republican members who were present to meet in the committee room for caucus. They all went in except Greenough, of Missoula, who was absent. Senator Olds and one or two others in company with the lieutenant governor, also went into the room. The interest of the spectators soon dwindled away and they left the hall. Sanders and E. D. Weed remained about for an hour or more.

Minnie Maddern To-Night—The Bandmann Festival Next Week.

This evening Miss Maddern and company will give a three nights' engagement at Ming's opera house. The opening attraction, "In Spite of All," is one of Steele Mackay's most successful dramatic works. During the past season Miss Maddern has achieved eminent success in the presentation of this play. It will be repeated to-morrow evening and on Thursday evening the great Madison Square Comedy, "Featherham," will be produced for the first time in this city. Large audiences will doubtless be present at all performances.

The Bandmann Company.

Daniel Bandmann and company will give a very large part of the Christmas week entertainments. The grandest of the Shakespearian plays and other standard dramatic works will be produced in a manner that will draw large audiences to all performances. Mr. Bandmann's merits as a great dramatic artist are very well known, and his company is said to be composed of very capable people.

THEIR BUSINESS.

The Representatives Have Their Turn at Passing Resolutions.

The usual featureless proceedings of the house of representatives were enlivened yesterday by the presentation and adoption of certain interesting resolutions. Together with instructions to Sergeant-at-arms Finland, they formed all the proceedings of the house worth mentioning. The matter had been decided upon a few days previous. The house met at 10 o'clock as usual. After the preliminary proceedings a recess was taken until 11 o'clock, many of the representatives going over into the senate chamber to watch the swearing of the democratic senators. Upon re-assembling Mr. Comly introduced the following resolutions which were read by the clerk.

Whereas, Certain members-elect of this body, to wit: Robert T. Wing and Aaron C. Witter, of Beaverhead county; E. D. Hatch and Charles Lockray, of Cascade county; J. M. Boardman and Samuel Mitchell, of Chouteau county; Hugh C. Moran and Chas. H. Miller, of Custer county; Martin Newcomer, of Dawson county; John C. Stoddard and Charles H. Eston, of Park county; F. H. Howey, of Lewis and Clarke county; F. Harrington, of Madison county; E. H. Goodman, of Meagher county; T. L. Greenough, J. T. Phillips, W. B. Harton and A. S. Burke, of Missoula county; W. C. Chapman, of St. Ignatius, and Charles H. Eaton, of Park county; F. H. Howey, of Lewis and Clarke county, and William H. Norton, of Yellowstone county, have wilfully absented themselves, and still so absent themselves and refuse to qualify and assume their seats in this body, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That each of said absentees be notified to appear within the body of this house forthwith and then and there qualify as a member thereof, and in event of his refusal so to do, that this house will take action upon his refusal.

Resolved, Further, That notice of this order of the house be given by the sergeant-at-arms, delivering a copy thereof, signed by the speaker and attested by the chief clerk, to each of said absentees without delay.

C. P. BLAKELY, Speaker.

Attest:
CHARLES Z. POSS, Chief Clerk.

The resolutions were adopted and the sergeant-at-arms was instructed to serve a copy of them to the members of the rump house, with the exception of Mr. Finlan, who did not receive his copy until after the adjournment. Mr. Finlan did not have far to go to find the majority of his men.
